

Initial Concert Of Series Group Booked for Nov. 1

Naom Blinder, Famed Violinist,
And Victor Recording
Artist, Appears

TAUGHT AT JULLIARD

Tickets in Form of Book Are Planned by Committee;
Experiment Novel

The 1933-34 Concert will open the evening of November 7, it was announced at Tuesday's meeting of the Concert Series Committee.

The first program will be given by Naom Blinder, violinist of note. Blinder has been a teacher in the famous Julliard School of music in New York City, and is also well known for his many fine Victor recordings. He will be followed by Josef Lhevinne, pianist, on January 30, and Arthur Johnson, tenor, on April 10.

Something new in season tickets is being introduced by this year's committee. Instead of one ticket for all three concerts, three tickets will be made into a booklet, perforations between each ticket, so that tickets will be taken at each concert. The price of admission to students is $1.00 a season ticket; to outsiders, a season ticket will be $1.50. As soon as tickets go on sale, there will be a sales-by-phone service at Sherman-Clay Co. as well as the usual sales booth in the quad and salesmen on the campus. All seats will be reserved, and separate tickets may be purchased if desired.

In the two previous Artist Series campaigns the committee has made use of elaborate mailing lists for the purpose of publicity. This year, however, the mailing list will consist exclusively of those persons known by the committee who have been patrons of the series. For publicity, special one-sheet announcement posters will be printed, as well as the very attractive posters designed by the art department. This phase of the work is in charge of Evelyn Cavala and Aurelie Antron.

The Speech Arts department will cooperate with the music department in supplying the ushers for the three concerts.

Members of the Concert Series Committee are Alice Dixon, chairman; Fred King, Carl Welz, Frances Croncey, Evelyn Cavala, Aurelie Antron, Jack Charnow, and Ray Ruff.

Art Class Donates Labor for Posters

Praising praise where praise is deserved needs to be done in the Art Department. Business Art classes, 96 A, are little appreciated around the campus by the student body.

According to Miss E. Hoisolt, instructor of 96 A, the classes make posters for most of the events held at San Jose State college, including rallies, dances, athletic events, and meetings. All of this work is done free of charge, except for the cost of the materials used.

Y.W.C.A. Advisory Board Entertains Women Students

Freshman and junior transfer women were entertained at dinner by members of the college Y.W.C.A. advisory board in their various homes Sunday evening.

Members of the advisory board who entertained are: Mrs. J. C. DeVoss, Miss Martha Trimble, Mrs. Amy Curtner, Mrs. I. B. Fischer, Mrs. Shelby M. Dolson, Mrs. A. D. Hinds, Dr. Berna Mason, and Mrs. Elliott Guild.

EXECUTIVE BOARD HAS FIRST MEETING OF YEAR TO TALK OVER AFFAIRS

The first Executive Board meeting of the year was held in the La Torre office, Tuesday, September 26, at 7:30 p.m. The official minutes follow:

The meeting was called to order by the president, Frank Covello. The minutes to the previous meeting were read and approved.

Under old business, a report was given concerning negotiations which had been attempted with the College of Pacific to admit visiting students to the San Jose—C.O.P. game free of charge. The C.O.P. officials are not in favor of the idea, it is reported.

Under new business, Mr. Pinkham stated that the Spartan Senate would like provisions to be made whereby the representative of forensics should be an active debater. This is now a political position, it was explained. Mr. Pinkham further asked that the debate manager be elected at the end of the winter quarter, and serve office the following three quarters. This would aid greatly in arranging the debate schedule, as now it must be made a year in advance. President Covello suggested that Mr. Eckert, debate coach, and Miss Jenks, head of the speech arts department should formulate a plan to present.

It was moved and seconded that Howard Burns be accepted as acting yell leader until the next election. The motion was carried.

It was moved and seconded that a vote of thanks be extended to Mary Tracy and Clarence Naas for their fine work on the student handbook. Miss Tracy was editor. The motion was carried.

Bill Moore's resignation as forensics manager was announced. A motion to accept his resignation was carried, and another motion to appoint Thomas Needham in his place was also carried. Mr. Needham's name had been suggested by Miss Jenks and Mr. Eckert.

Pegasus Meeting Opens Discussion Of New Program

Officers Are Elected For Fall
Term of Honorary Society
Of Creative Writing

MEMBERSHIP IS LIMITED

Any Student With Sufficient
Creative Ability May Join
This Literary Group

Pegasus, the honorary society for creative writing, held its first meeting of the quarter last Monday evening in Room 1 of the Homemaking Building. The program for the quarter was discussed and agreed upon. Election of officers was another major phase of the meeting.

Deviating from the usual trend of meetings when stories and articles are warmly discussed, it was agreed to hold an informal dinner instead of a business meeting, when officers will be installed during the latter part of the evening.

The third meeting will be devoted to the consideration of new members, who have handed in certain creative writings. It was decided to limit the total of new members to be accepted. However, a student with sufficient ability in creative writing will be welcome to membership.

The Pegasus society hopes to secure a distinguished literary figure in the near future.

The officers nominated are the following:

President,
Vernon Korstad
First Vice-President
Dick Bertrandias
Second Vice-President
Dave Wisdom
Secretary-treasurer
Jean Sewell Smith
Estelle Reynolds

At the next meeting, an informal dinner, the new new officers will be installed.

The meeting will be presided over by Cyril Wood, outgoing president, aided by Vernon Korstad.

"Rodeo" Planned By Industrial Society

Enterprising Iota Sigma Phi members will hold a rip-roaring "Frosh Rodeo" next Tuesday, October 2, at 9 P.M.

The Rodeo will be whopped up with an exciting game of water polo in the Y's pool. Basketball! Volleyball! Baseball! Squash! Races! All of this wonderful equipment is yours for the evening. Why not make use of it? Eats? of course!

Every member of the Industrial Arts Department, including the professors is expected to be there. Come on, you shop men, let's go.

Local Teacher Pays Visit To Edwin Markham Home

Mr. Roland Eberhardt, English instructor at San Jose High School, called at the home of Edwin Markham on Staten Island, New York while in the East the past summer. Mr. Markham was not at home, but Mr. Eberhardt had the pleasure of visiting with Mrs. Markham.

Mrs. Markham expressed her appreciation of the plaque that was dedicated at San Jose State last summer in honor of her husband who was formerly a student at this college.

Mr. Eberhardt said that he found the Markham home most interesting. He explained that there are "hundreds of books, autographed and very valuable editions."

Mrs. Markham said that her husband

All students interested in discovering and discussing economic conditions and ideas of today are invited to meet together in Room 14 on Monday night at 7:30.

Teachers' College Edict Against Hazing Modified

The Arizona State Teachers' College edict against hazing was modified Thursday, when President Grady Gamman gave the college traditions committee permission to paddle "privately" freshmen who break established rules of conduct on the campus.

Paddling and other forms of hazing were abolished by the college students council last fall. Last week the new council re-established the practice. Within a few hours numerous fights broke out between the freshmen and the sophomores.

Spartan-Stanford Game Featured In Window Display

Students will be interested in seeing the attractive window display featured by the Office-Store Equipment Company of San Jose.

The window contains a miniature football field—one end a gold and white goal post—and the other a red and white goal post for Stanford. Regular football equipment borders the field while the center is occupied by a typewriter containing a typical student's letter to his pal informing him of the game between State and Stanford.

Mr. E. E. Hunter, manager, has seen fit not only to appeal to the students, but to the townspeople as well, and is to be congratulated on his success.

San Jose Students' Art Work Exhibited in S. F.

Extensive Plans Made for Use of $744,000 NRA Bid

Extension Of Library Wing
Fourth Street Would Cost $345,000

SUM LISTED FOR ROADS

Students' Union, Auditorium
Improvements, Among Considerations

Although it is not probable that the entire $744,000 bid for improvements submitted by request to the NRA headquarters will be granted, it is gratifying to hear of the extensive plans which are being formulated for its use should we receive it.

The amount of $345,000 was asked for the construction of an extension of the library wing which would complete that side of the building, bringing it to Fourth Street. This would house the Music department and several new reading rooms.

The plans have been drawn for a field house for the stadium. It will be the latest type of structure for the purpose containing shower and first aid rooms for both teams.

As it was suggested that some of the money be used for roads, $15,000 was listed to be used on roads around the Stadium.

The amount of $25,000 was requested for the completion of the Science wing. This will include the installation of a freight elevator and a telescope.

The Speech Arts department will benefit to the extent of $50,000 as this amount was asked for improvements of the stage in the Morris Dailey Auditorium which will be partly devoted to the construction of small recitation rooms back stage.

$100,000 was asked for a Students Union, $40,000 for the heating plant, $6,000 for addition to the Homemaking Building, $30,000 for the Women's Gym, $10,000 for a store room for the Co-op, $6,000 for locker rooms, $25,000 for street lights on Seventh Street.

This would greatly improve the facilities of this institutions, and it is hoped that the full amount of the bid will be granted.

Dr. Pickwell Says Nature Study Book Will Be Ready Soon

Dr. Gayle B. Pickwell, faculty member, announces that the next Western Nature Study Series Book will be forthcoming in approximately five or six months.

The nature of the book will deal with a treatise on lizards, snakes and turtles. The recent publications of the Western Nature Study Series are not pamphlets, or magazines, but books.

The authors are members of our own natural science faculty; Dr. Gayle B. Pickwell, Dr. C. D. Duncan, Dr. K. S. Hazeltine and Miss Emily Smith.

Mrs. Latta, Mrs. Raynor Resign From Positions

Mrs. Edith Latta and Mrs. Deborah Raynor of the Education department will leave the college in the near future, their resignations having been accepted recently.

Mrs. Latta will go to Merced about the middle of October to join her husband, who is a teacher in the high school.

Mrs. Raynor was part-time secretary in the department last year, and had charge of student teaching records.

Successors for neither of the two positions have as yet been appointed.

THE WORLD AT LARGE

By Harry Hawes

WASHINGTON—The U. S. Bureau of Public Health asks everyone to watch his waistline. Tuberculosis is only one of the serious diseases that may result of underweight.

Secretary of State Hull announced that the old question of War debts will be discussed on October 8.

Important changes have been made in Government Emergency Relief. About 75 million dollars of food products is to be bought to be distributed among the nation's needy families. This is part of the Farm Relief program.

From far off Abyssinia comes the report that Her Majesty, the Empress of Abyssinia, is to pay a state visit to Jerusalem. She will not travel as her illustrious ancestor, the Queen of Sheba, did, on elephant back, but in a private Pullman car. Also unlike her forebearer, Her Majesty tips the scales at over 300 pounds. This weight is too small for her small feet to carry; so that she has to be pushed around in a wheel chair by perspiring slaves.

Sir John Simon, the British Foreign Secretary, makes the startling statement that the world needs armaments at this time, and he suggests that World Disarmament be abandoned at the time being.

A great landmark in Paris, the Opera House, was saved from destruction by fire through the foresight of some people in a store opposite the building. They saw flames leaping from the roof and called the fire department in time to save the edifice from serious damage.

In Tampico, Mexico, the damage done by the hurricane was estimated at $3,000,000. The Mexican Secretary of the Interior flew down to the scene to look things over. He brought with him supplies and medicines. There is a danger of floods with the rivers rising, and of an epidemic.

And now to return to United States again. In San Francisco plans for the annual celebration of the German colony were interrupted because they were refused the right to fly the Nazi flag. Members of the entertainment committee said that they couldn't insult the German Republic, and that they had permission from the American Department of State. Plans would be carried out just the same, the Committee chairman announced.

Gas Bombs Rout Radical

Excitement was rife at the University of California Thursday when three men, presumably students, brought tear gas into play to rout agents selling copies of a radical publication from their stand at the main gate of entrance to the institution.

Arthur V. Van Tassel, prominent member of the Social Problems club, composed of a group of students with radical leanings, was posted at Sather Gate selling copies of the club publication, when the raiding party appeared in an automobile, took possession, destroyed the papers, and sped away.

When new papers were secured and the sale continued, the men returned, sprayed tear gas on Van Tassel's face and dropped gas bombs in the street. The fumes had a marked effect on several hundred students and bystanders.

Just Among Ourselves

Note—This column is personal between the president and the college. Outsiders are requested not to make use of the material.

Few of you knew Dr. Suzzallo. He was our most distinguished graduate. Truly a world educator. His passing is a loss to humanity. His interest in this college was keen, his ready advice and encouragement always available. We shall miss him sadly.

Sixteen students now in the Three Squares Club. Seem to be having a good time, enjoying the grub. Don't know how the cafeteria's coming out.

Please keep away from gates and doorways when smoking. I have no quarrel with you smoking, but you interfere with traffic and the stubs around the doorways are most unsightly. There should be no smoking whatever in any of the buildings on the campus. The state carries no insurance, and it takes years to replace buildings. Please do your smoking on the south campus, or near the tennis courts, or off the campus entirely. There should be none whatever on the north campus near the High School, just as a matter of courtesy to the High School, and certainly none near the library entrance. It's all a matter of neatness, safety, and fair play. May I ask your cooperation?

So we had our football game. I thought we might win. I knew the papers had it otherwise, but they were wrong on the C.O.P. game and on the Nevada game, so I figured they'd be wrong on ours. But they weren't. Still I enjoyed that game. It was no slaughter.

ter. I was proud of our team. Going to put up a monument to that famous Stanford fumble. I must say, however, that I'm not very wild about providing breathers for other teams. Stanford, of course, has to have some game to start on, but I hate to be the door mat even if it does say "Welcome". It sort of irks my foolish pride to be taken so casually, and it irritates me beyond anything to consider it an honor to be licked by Stanford.

Incidentally, I may say that I'm not particularly ambitious about abnormal football development here, and I am utterly opposed to any exploitation of players. The growth of this college does not depend upon a winning football team. I would like to see good football here simply because everything at San Jose State should be good, but we must never lose our sense of values.

Just remember that no matter what we do, we can't possibly please everybody. We can get new coaches, new health service, new stadium, new equipment, then some one will make additional demands. It is nothing to get excited about. Those newspaper men must have their fun, but you never yet saw one of them holding the sack. Give the sports writers a break, that's all right for they must interest their readers, but don't try too seriously to follow their suggestions, or—right away they'll think of something else.

We don't seem to hear very much about the Sacramento J.C. game. We used to consider that one of our most serious obstacles. I hope we're not underrating them this time.

The W.A.A.'s are going to have their first Play Day October 4 at four o'clock. Play Days have been getting better and better. Free supper afterwards, I understand. Those women know how. Every woman on the campus should take part.

you need, especially on San Carlos again. Don't take any more room than parking is beginning to be a problem. Park close. Parking hogs are almost as bad, and every bit as irritating as road hogs.

Noon Hour Scribes Utilize Jazz Music

The noon hour penmanship class, stationed in room 133 of the main building, was exceedingly grateful for the rhythmic melodies which issued forth from the orchestra that played for Wednesday's noon dance.

In the midst of executing perfect O's, the class was suddenly forced to compete with the orchestra's renditions of popular tunes, when the instructor conceived the idea of writing to the music. She forthwith illustrated on the board, and the class was so delighted with the idea that they forgot to keep time with their feet and did it instead with their pens. Who cares what the O's looked like?

We suggest that the orchestra might play special requests for their scribbling audience next time, and it is rumored that some careful soul has started a movement to penalize any musician who attempts to play a rumba within hearing distance of the class.

Rumors of starting a national society, Pi Omega Pi, in this college are becoming increasingly strong. So far it is the only national organization for teachers in the United States.

Wandering Kings May Challenge Card Debators

Wanderers stationed at the Palo Alto shelter have challenged all-comers to a debate at any time, authorities of Stanford University announce. The institution specializes in caring for down-and-outers who are temporarily out of luck, and it is expected that some of the Cardinal debaters will accept the challenge to argue with their not-so fortunate rivals.

The shelterites are not all common "hoboes" and "bums" who make it their business to get what they can for nothing; nor are they the city park variety who swarm together to settle the affairs of the nation—for among the recruits are at least six college graduates. Harvard, Dartmouth, Northwestern, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and even the University of Edinburgh, are represented. Therefore, it will be men well acquainted with economic problems who argue with whoever wants to accept their challenge.

With the approach of winter and the inevitable increase in population at the shelter, probably it will mean a whole debate series with Stanford and nearby schools. That is, if more college graduates are forced to join the noble knights of the highways, for the latter are seldom blessed with forensic propensities.

MURIEL BATES BECOMES ATTRACTIVE FALL BRIDE OF CURRENT SEASON

Miss Muriel Bates, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harley Bates of this city, became the bride of Robert Graff of San Francisco at a lovely home wedding ceremony held at four o'clock in the afternoon of September 16. Mr. Graff is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Graff of Morse Avenue, San Jose.

Lovely decorations of salmon pink gladioli combined with masses of fern made an effective background for the wedding, which was held at the home of the bride's aunt, Dr. Lulu E. Lawn. The marriage vows were read by the Rev. Guy Levitt of San Francisco, and the wedding music was played by Miss Marjorie Graff, sister of the groom. Two solos were sung by Oscar Bradley.

The bride wore an afternoon gown of light blue crepe, and she carried a bouquet of white carnations. Miss Ann Bowers of this city was the maid of honor and was frocked in a becoming dress of tan crepe. She carried pink carnations.

Mr. Robert Lamb of San Francisco attended the groom as best man.

A reception followed the ceremony, and later a wedding supper was served at the Hotel Sainte Claire.

Mrs. Graff is a graduate of the local high school, and she also attended San Jose State college.

Mr. Graff is in the San Francisco office of the Southern Pacific company. The young couple motored to San Francisco, where they are to reside.

All candidates for yell leader should sign up immediately with Howard Burns.

The Archery Club meets today (Friday) at 12:30 in the Women's Gym. All interested are asked to attend.

SPARTAN SPASMS

By
MURDOCK & BISHOP

Tomorrow afternoon Coach Dud DeGroot's Spartans will enter their second game of the season in the doubtful position of favorites. By virtue of their showing against Stanford, the locals rated ahead of the as yet untied Sacramento Junior College Panthers.

Bob Scott, Sports editor of the Sacramento Junior College "Pony Express" is seemingly suffering from no doubts as to the ability of this new football machine which "Hack" Applequist has built.

He writes—
"A team with punch... a team with drive...with spirit, fire, stamina. A team with speed, deceptiveness, power, smoothness...one that will NOT stop going forward; one that strives on and through the sanguinary lines that oppose its way."

Unless Mr. Scott was airing those adjectives just for the fun of airing them, the Spartans are in for a tough afternoon which we are inclined to believe might be the case.

At any rate, the locals should not suffer from any delusions simply because they nearly held Stanford to a 14 to 0 score.

Sacramento Junior College always has a tough team. Strong Panther teams have come to be tradition around Sacramento, and there has not been a season in a good many years that they have not been either champions or definite contenders for the Championship of the Northern California Junior College Conference.

Competition between the Panthers and Far Western Conference teams has always been close, and on many occasions the Jaysee men have emerged victorious. Why should it be any different this year. Beware, we say, beware!

Those who saw last year's grand Sacramento Junior College team, however, wonder if the Panthers can possibly be as strong this year. We doubt if they are although they will undoubtedly be good. Gone are such men as Harvey, Oliver, Krantz, and Peterson, and the Panther newcomers will have to be plenty good if they can equal these performers.

Coach "Hack" Applequist has shifted Bob Stafford, halfback on last year's Panther varsity, to a guard post and he is showing up well. Stafford weighs 180 pounds and is six feet tall which makes him excellent-line material.

In entering the Sacramento Stadium, the Spartans return to the scene of their great triumph of last season when they downed the Cal Aggies 19-17 to assure themselves of at least a tie for the Conference title.

Walden Jennings is continuing to develop rapidly at end. He is the only substitute wingman which Dud sent into the Stanford game, which indicates the confidence the Spartan coach has in this lad.

Tonight will find Amos Alonzo Stagg's College of Pacific Tigers making their second start of the season against Jimmy Hole's California Ramblers at Stockton. It will be the first home game for the Tigers, having played in Portland last week, and the first game of the season for the Ramblers.

We warrant that Coach Dud DeGroot or some of his assistants will be on hand. For the Spartans take on both teams in a very few weeks.

Johnny Hines showed in practice the other night that he has speed to burn. The Modesto flash was reeling off end runs from punt formation in a very creditable fashion indeed.

DeGroot 'Shakes-up' Spartan Varsity For Sacramento Contest

After a hard-fought scrimmage with the Frosh Wednesday night, Coach Dud DeGroot announced that a probable new line-up will take the field against Hack Applequist's Panthers in the Sacramento Stadium tomorrow afternoon. The Frosh tore the Varsity line to shreds in their scrimmage and it is there that the head man will be forced to make his changes.

NEW MEN

In the center of the line, Ralph Myers, last year's Frosh will probably be in place of Jerry Whitaker, a veteran of the 1932 champs. Lack of fire and fight on the part of Whitaker has forced the change. At left tackle, John Becker, a transfer from San Mateo J. C. will be in place of "Moose" Buehler, who has been far below his form of last season. Becker has been playing some fine football and should bolster the line.

At the ends, the big upset is being staged. Captain Bud Hubbard and "Horse" Laughlin are being replaced by Jim Francis and Walden Jennings. The latter two have looked great in practice, while the former two have nei-

Coach "Hack" Applequist of Sacramento Junior College whose gridders meet San Jose in Sacramento tomorrow.

Cal Poly Game Off For Blesh's Frosh

News came from San Luis Obispo that the California Poly Tech would be unable to meet the San Jose Frosh due to a lack of finances at the Southern school, which is all very disappointing to the Babes. Now it looks like the Frosh are holding the proverbial sack this week-end unless something unusual turns up, and this is quite unlikely. The boys are getting all burnt up and show signs of impatience, for which no one can blame them, wifit with the varsity already one game up on them, and a second this Saturday; the yearlings are anxious for the fray.

Freshmen Coach Erwin Blesh is working his charges every day out on the old stadium turf with the able assistance of that "beega fella", John Leo. John is one of the unfortunate illegibles, so, to be near the pigskin, he passes the time away helping instruct the new frosh, which is all very nice. However, John should be able to get his 250 pounds, more or less, into action with the varsity next year. Take a bow, Mr. Leo.

Charlie Baracchi, Spartan's stellar end of last season, is now doing De Groot with his 1935 wingman, Baracchi, who is out of the present picture because of an abdominal operation which he underwent this summer, has had loads of experience at the flank position. All of which should be of aid to the many promising but inexperienced ends now out.

Once again we must marvel at the progress of Francis Pura. This lad had never played one bit of football in his life until he turned out for the team last fall. Yet to-day, he ranks second only to Dee Shehtanian as a left halfback. With a little more experience, this lad is going to go places in a big way.

FEMININE FRAY Soccer Scribe Has Lowdown on State

As you can see, the writer has changed this column from GIRLS' SPORTS to FEMININE FRAY. And that's the way it will remain unless a sudden brainstorm hits the "tired" reporter.

ORCHESIS

Plans for a Junior Orchesis were made at the first meeting of Orchesis, last Wednesday evening, September 27. This new group will meet for the first time next Tuesday afternoon, October 3, at five o'clock in the Women's Gym and will hold meetings at the same time and place every Thursday thereafter. The objective of this Junior organization is to give those girls who are interested in dancing and who desire to become members of the Honorary Orchesis an opportunity for practicing dancing.

Orchesis tryouts will be held Thursday, October 19, at five o'clock in the gym. All those interested should sign up with Miss Margaret Jewell, faculty advisor of the society, or Janet Hopkins, acting president. Practice will be held next Tuesday, October 3, when the Junior Orchesis holds its first meeting.

Janet Hopkins was elected acting president of the society for this quarter as Beth Friermuth, president is doing her practice teaching.

PLAYDAY

Incidentally, girls, don't forget that today (Friday) is the last day you can sign up for the playday which is to be held next Wednesday afternoon from four to six. So if you haven't signed up, do so IMMEDIATELY. Sign up lists are on the bulletin board in the Women's Gym.

Anyone that still clings to the idea that soccer is not a man's game should have seen the boys going through their paces the other night.

Several of the boys got in Johnnie Stratton's way just when he was giving a beautiful living example of perpetual motion. Charles Sleeper took a nose dive from the hips of the "Straton Express" that would have done credit to any circus performer.

Our mutual friend Jack Billwiller began where he left off Friday, and this time he showed us some tricks that we didn't know existed. On several occasions he plowed up the ground with a varied assortment of arms, legs, feet, noses and ears.

Ernie Graff encountered some difficulty with the fullbacks, and on most of his sallies into the defense area, he was dumped in no uncertain fashion by Hayes and Donahoo.

And speaking of Donahoo, since he was moved to fullback he has shown plenty of pep. Our previous prediction that he might be moved to the forward line is about as likely to become a reality as Bob Leland is to become a tight rope walker.

Anton Hoistede suffered the first injury of the season Friday when someone's cleats beat a merry tune on his leg. He will be out the rest of the week.

Al Rhins is also nursing a kicked shin that has slowed him up considerably. After "piddling" around for the better part of a week, goalie Bob Leland has finally begun to play his position with a little pep and fire.

And in conclusion, how we wish that Herman Wittenberg was in school. "Witt" worked out with the varsity the other night and looked plenty good. We'd like nothing better than to entice him back to the fold, but then, soccer is only a minor sport.

APPLEQUIST BUILDS '33 PANTHER ELEVEN FROM INEXPERIENCED SQUAD

The San Jose State-Sacramento Junior College football game has been always a closely contested battle in the past, and 1933 will be no exception if Coach 'Hack' Applequist of the Capitol City Institution can do anything about it.

Although he lost the majority of his great 1932 team, the worthy "Hack" can always be depended on to develop a strong aggregation from the hoardes of excellent high school material that seems to flock to the valley institution.

Just how well he has built through the three weeks that have constituted the Panther practice period will come out tomorrow afternoon when Dud De Groot's charges strut their stuff in the Sacramento Municipal Stadium.

THE PANTHER LINEUP

From the squad of seventy that reported for football, Coach Applequist and his assistants, Mercer and Weidon, have succeeded in lining up two rather evenly matched teams. The players who constitute these two teams will, in all probability bear the brunt of the attack against the Spartans.

The first string line consists of Nick Barbieri and either Hubner or Gard at ends; Hughes and Fisher at tackles; Captain Gallagher and Richter or Stafford guards; and Jack Woerner at center. In the backfield are Vitach at quarter; Harry Whipple and Johnny Ohrt at halfbacks; and Hall a fullback.

The second string line has Jack Knight and Parker at ends; Kness and Hanna at tackles; Jensen and Shell at guards; and "Chuck" Dawson at center. Running behind this line is a backfield composed of Prugh at quarter; Stafford and McRea at halves; and Louis Nova at full. In back of this quartet is another lonesome Silva, Coe, Bayer, and Rich which is reputed to be almost as strong.

THEY MUST BE GOOD

The first string backfield must be good if it can keep such a veteran of last year's team as Doug McRea and Louis Nova, who starred for the Aggies, sitting on the bench.

Advance publicity upholds this supposition by booming the abilities of the varsity halfbacks, Harry Whipple and Johnny Ohrt.

Chrt, a star with last year's Colusa Independent team, is described as being "solid and a cool thinker." Whipple, who won his letter as a substitute last year, is said to have been the big star of the Modesto game. Bob Scott, Sacramento Sports Editor says that, "He's small but he's dynamite!"

All in all, it looks like the Panthers have another strong team. Whether they can penetrate the defense which held Stanford remains to be seen. It may be that that defense may not function so well due to overconfidence or some such reason. If that is the case, then the Spartans had better look out. For the locals have yet to prove that they have the offensive punch to concede the opposition very many touchdowns and still emerge the victor.
